ART BY JO HARDIE

This collection of new works by Australian artist Jo Hardie strives to capture snapshots of life from the perspective of living in a region of the world that is essentially in an endless summer. This area which boasts an amazing array of unique and diverse wildlife is a constant inspiration for Jo's works. Inspired by nature in its truest form, these multifaceted pieces can remind us of simple moments of beauty available around us all the time.

After many years of working in various mediums and together with Jo's sculptural background has resulted in this distinctive, varied, technical style which lays the foundations for her dynamic work. With many of her works now residing in countries all around the world the broad appeal of this unique work is evident as her work continues to progress.

"Growing up in North Queensland I have an impression ingrained in me of the life here and despite travelling to many amazing countries and places, these are the images I feel most passionate about and compelled to express."

Jo Hardie

The 'Summery' art exhibition was officially launched by North Queensland Patron of the Arts and Former Member for Leichhardt the Hon Warren Entsch with special guest Leading Australian Environmentalist Bob Irwin on May 27 2010.
